COLLEGE WORKSHOPS

I AM SHARING A VISION

Workshops

For Your Students: One or more group sessions of 2 – 4 hours duration involving up to 50 students per session. Robert's sessions help students to:

- (1) Respect themselves
- (2) Learn how to build a positive self-image
- (3) See themselves as achievers
- (4) Raise their confidence levels
- (5) Learn how to set and achieve their goals

Not always an easy task, but the excitement that Robert brings to his work makes it a fun experience as well as a learning experience.

For Your Staff: If yours is a school in which there are specific interpersonal issues, issues of racial tension, issues of managing conflict or learning some of the techniques Robert uses to help students draw out the best in themselves, introductory and advanced seminars for staff are just the thing. One or more full-day or part-day programs with Robert will go a long way to getting things started or getting things back on track.

For Your Administration: The staff programs are also valuable for administrators, but senior staffs almost certainly need a bit more, some things that are different. How to work with your staff to resolve tensions and differences within it. How to motivate staff to see their potential when perhaps enthusiasm has waned or discouragement has set in. How to help individual staff members overcome difficulties they may have in prizing and celebrating the diversity of the student mix in your school, your town or city, in society in general. And if such programs need to be customized to your needs, few are as expert as Robert at doing that.
